Kevin & Charity: OneStory Training

For three weeks in November, we participated in the OneStory Quest training at a Youth With a Mission (YWAM) base in Amsterdam, Holland.

In total, there were 20 trainers and trainees. We enjoyed getting to know this new group, which included some missionaries who have been on the field for over 30 years!

Our first two weeks were focused on learning Orality and Storying. Taught by the International Mission Board, we each learned how to prepare and craft a unique set of Bible stories for our target group. Each of us had an opportunity to memorize and tell Bible stories, and we learned how to present, discuss, and test the stories for accuracy.

Our final week was called Language and Culture Acquisition, which was taught by Wycliffe missionaries. In this week, we discovered how to learn a language (and culture) from scratch, preparing our own lesson plans and using a language helper. For practice, we spent the week learning Romanian! The tools we learned will certainly help us as prepare for our upcoming project.

Here we are with some of our new friends from the OneStory training, Karin, who is from Holland, and Augustina, from Ghana.
