DAILY TEXTS

In 2006 increased quantities of Daily Texts sold due to the 50th Anniversary challenge to congregations to share ministry with others through the Daily Texts. It is hoped this year, you will continue to further your ministry by using the Daily Texts 2008 as gifts to those you minister to and with. This little devotional guide can do great things and when shared becomes a gift of scripture and thought for each and every day. We hope as you place your order you will think not only of congregational needs but also creative ways to use the Texts in the communities you serve.

Don't forget that we are taking pre-orders for the 2008 Daily Texts. But ordering yours by July 15th, you will get the discounted rate along with not having to worry about the shipping costs. Order forms are in the front vestibule. Please fill out your order form for the kind of Daily Texts that you want, and place payment in the envelope provided. You may turn this in at anytime before Sunday July 15th.
